Afternoon Sessions Meant Sleeping in

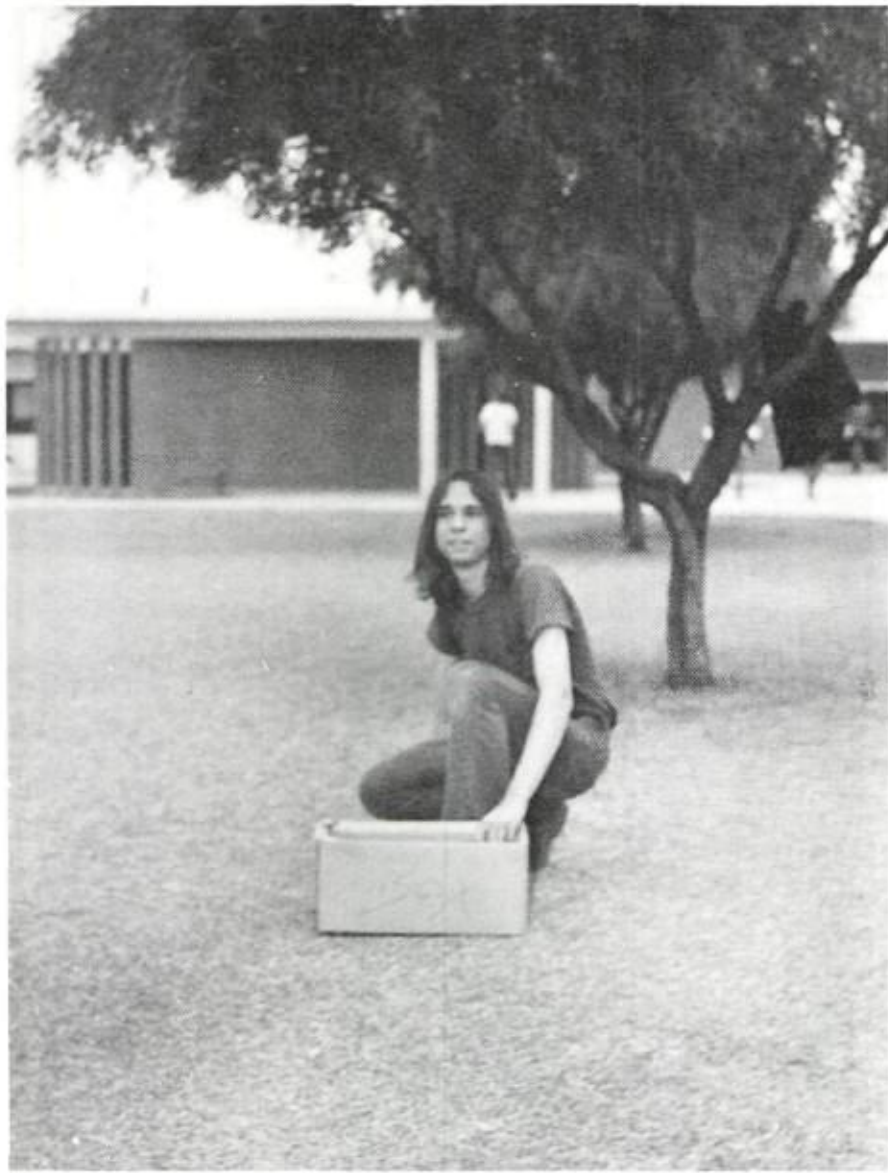

Sleeping till noon is quite nice, but it is finally time to get up for school says "mother" to "daughter".

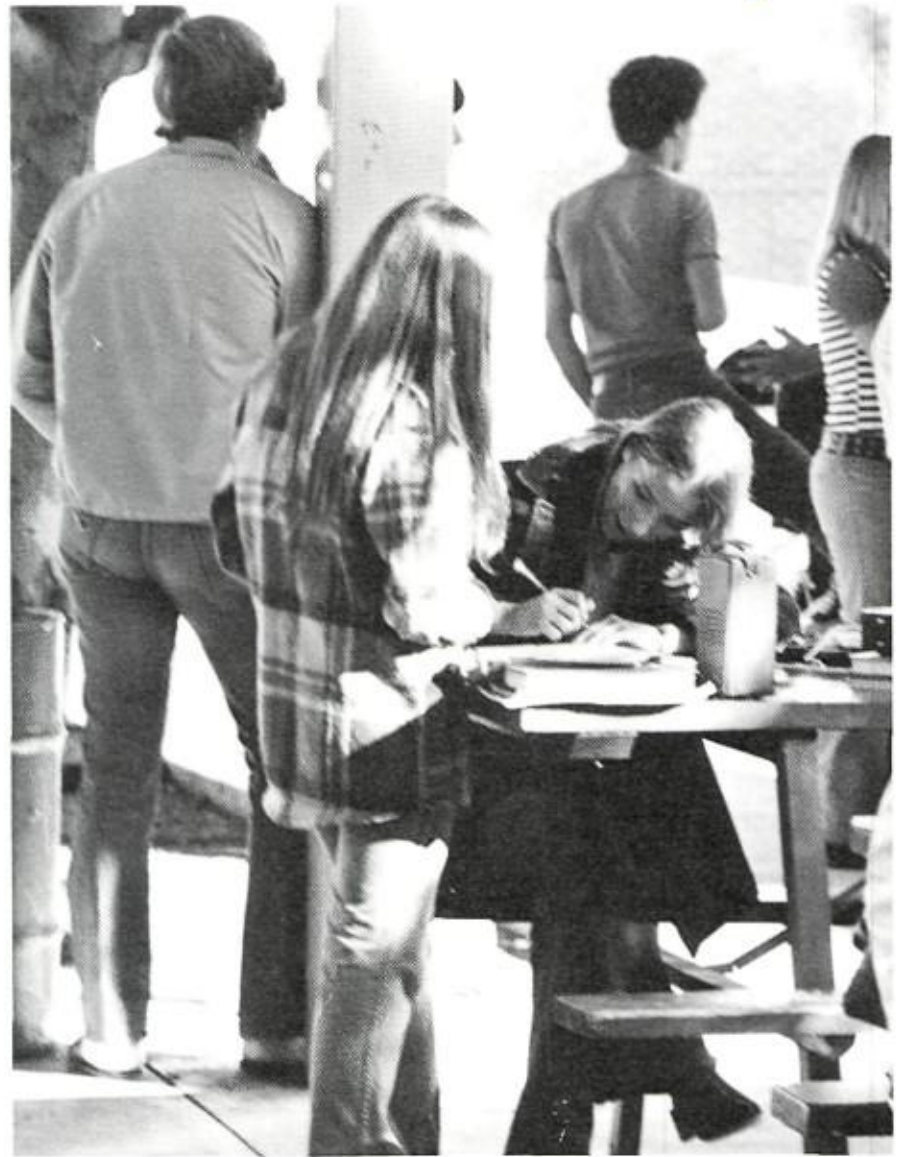

Thunderbird students wait at the corner of 19th Ave. and Tonto Lane for the bus to take them to afternoon sessions on the Moon Valley High School campus.

Jim Jackson picks up trash on campus before school.

Nancy -
I haven't known you very long, but I'm glad I've known you for the tyme I have.
You're a really neat,
"peachy" girl. Always be yourself.
Love,
Terry

A Thunderbird student rushes to finish her last bit of home-work at the snack bar before the first bell rings.

Students relax under tree while waiting for first period.

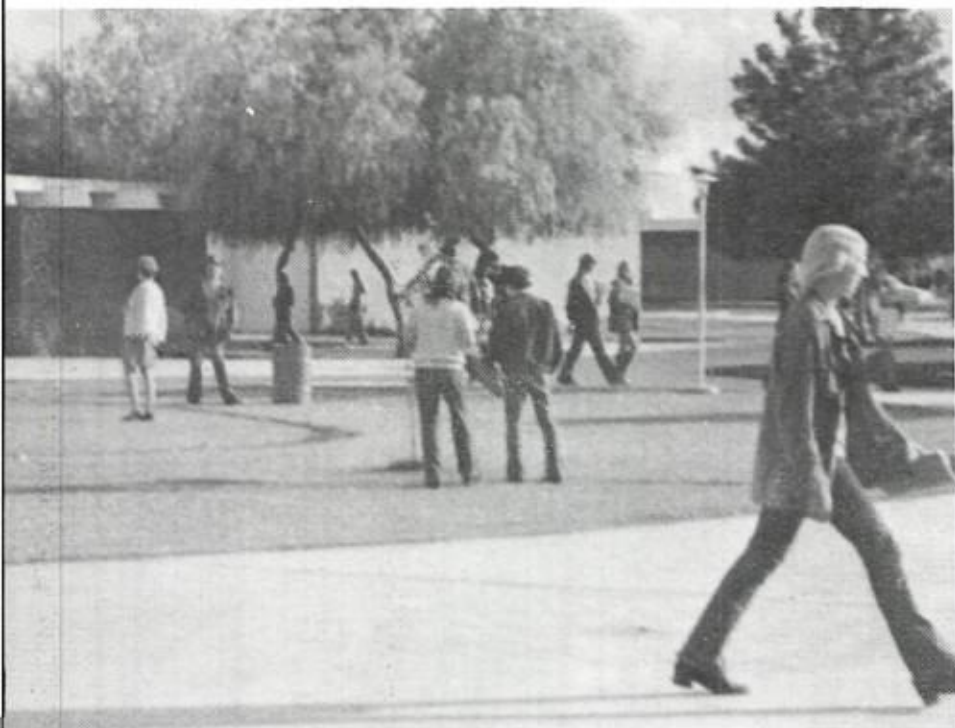

Various Activities Fill Morning Hours

Bob Hunsick conducts a student council meeting before school on the Moon Valley campus.

Gerald Roose takes a lottery ticket from Cynthia Donnet while Lillian Altuchou looks on during rehearsal of the one-act play "The Lottery".

Thunderbird students make a mad dash across the Moon Valley campus to their first hour classes.

Mrs. Beale's third hour Craft's class cuts out pictures for their collages.

Mike Liner studies during break on Grub Day.

Minutes at Break Allowed Relaxation

Students lined up at the Snack Bar, which is located at the south-end of the Moon Valley cafeteria, during their twenty-minute break to buy food and refreshments.

Some students hated to wait in line at the cafeteria so they walked across the street and had to hurry back to class.

One student didn't have time to finish a candy bar so she polishes it off during class.

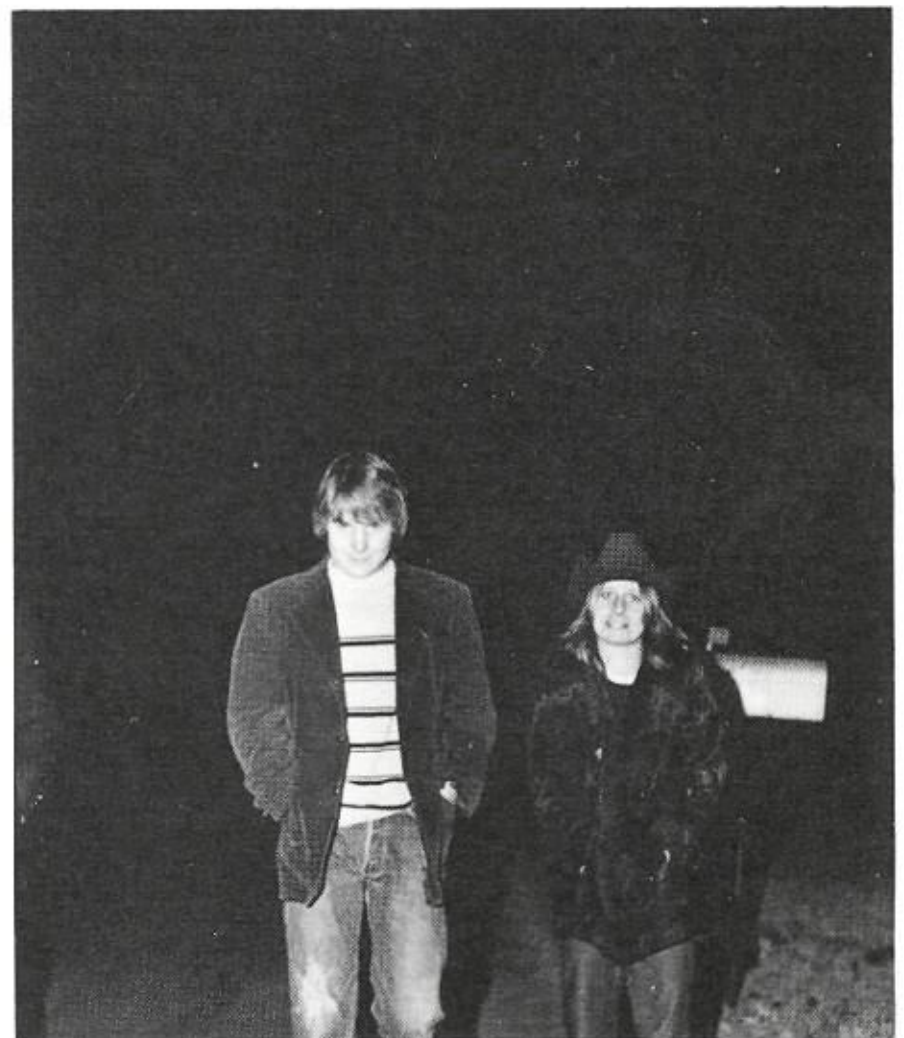

Students find out on Thunderbird's first grub day that some of their teachers can out-grub them.

Riding the Bus Home, Pep Assemblies, Games, Fill Evening Hours After School

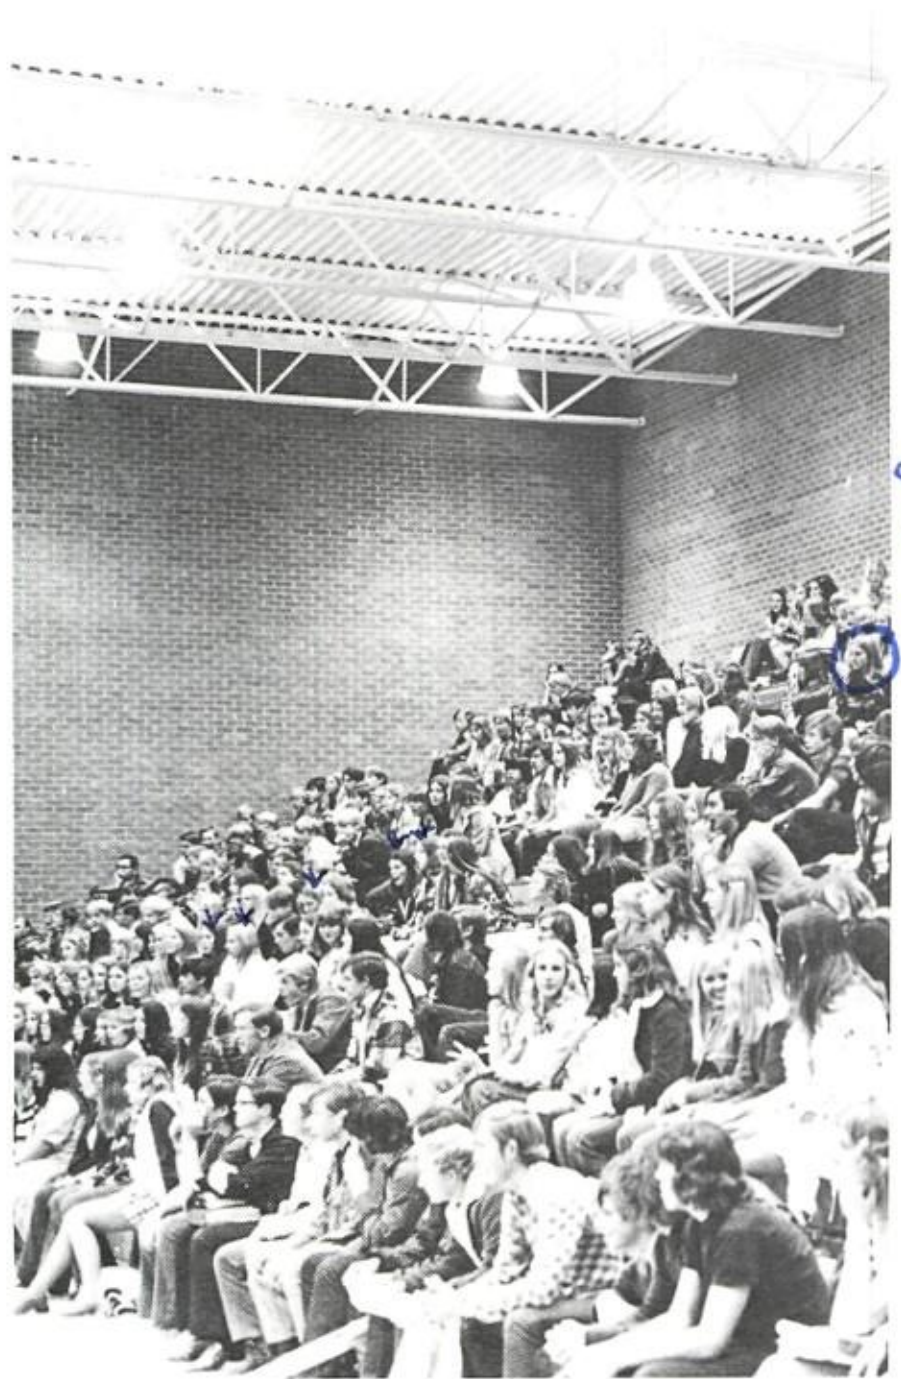

Students crowd on the Village Meadows bus after school to go home from Moon Valley at 5:45 sharp.

Two THS students walk home from the bus stop after dark.

Students watch and wait patiently at the second pep assembly this year for winter sports.

Cheerleaders show their enthusiasm after the J. V. Football team comes back on the field after half-time.

Mr. Storey explains how and what to do for the Powder Puff game.

Chiefs Participate in Various Events

Spanish Club members celebrated a traditional Christmas complete with a pinata, Santa, and his elves.

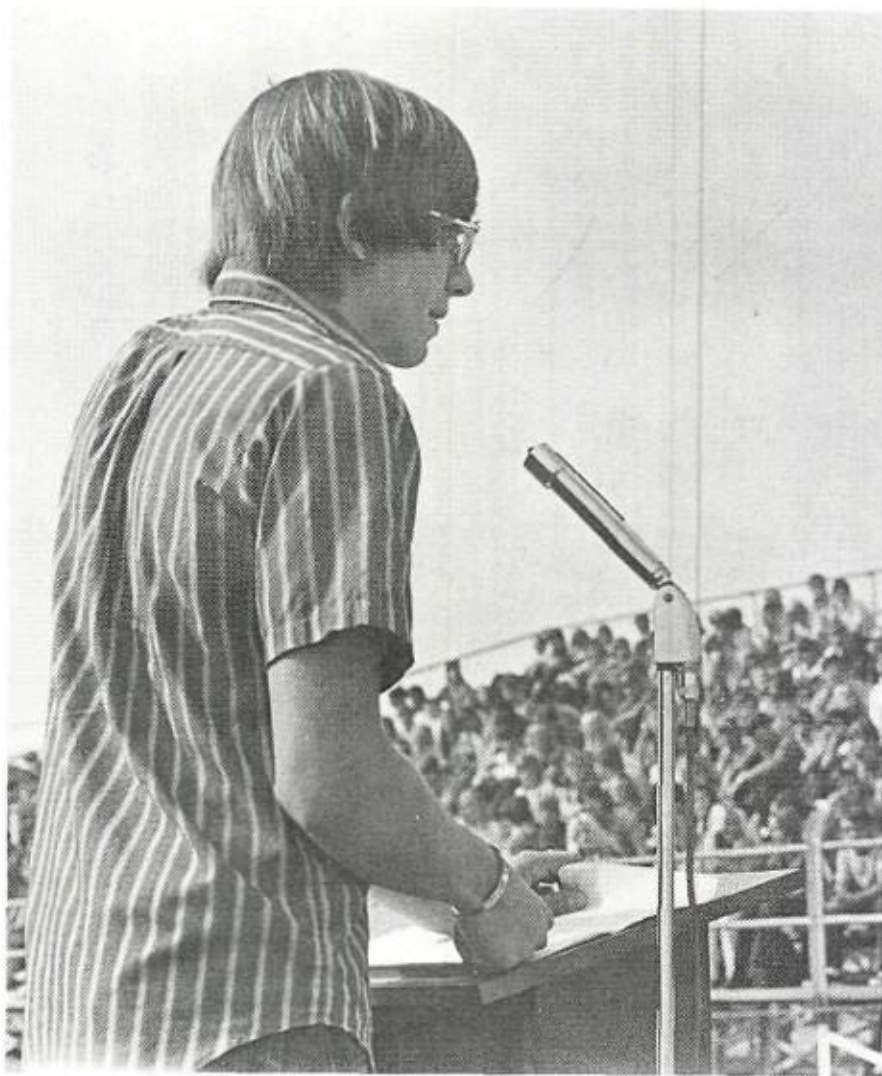

Miss Sherman smiles while some students put her in the trash can.

Some of our helpful students clean the Moon Valley campus on Ecology Day.

Election Assembly, Canned Food Drive Unify Thunderbird

Jeff Patten delivers his campaign speech for student body vice president before the first all-school assembly. The day following the speeches, the Chiefs elected their very first slate of student leaders.

Debbie Trudeau and Bob Hunsick ponder the future for a moment. Both received excellent ratings in Forensic Club competition this year.

Enthusiastic Chiefs perch on the edge of the stage to enjoy the music of a local band that performed at the get-acquainted dance sponsored by the cheerleaders.

Mitzi Wescott, and Rhonda Webster show some of the nearly 1,422 cans and packages of food delivered to the Sunnydale Children's Home.

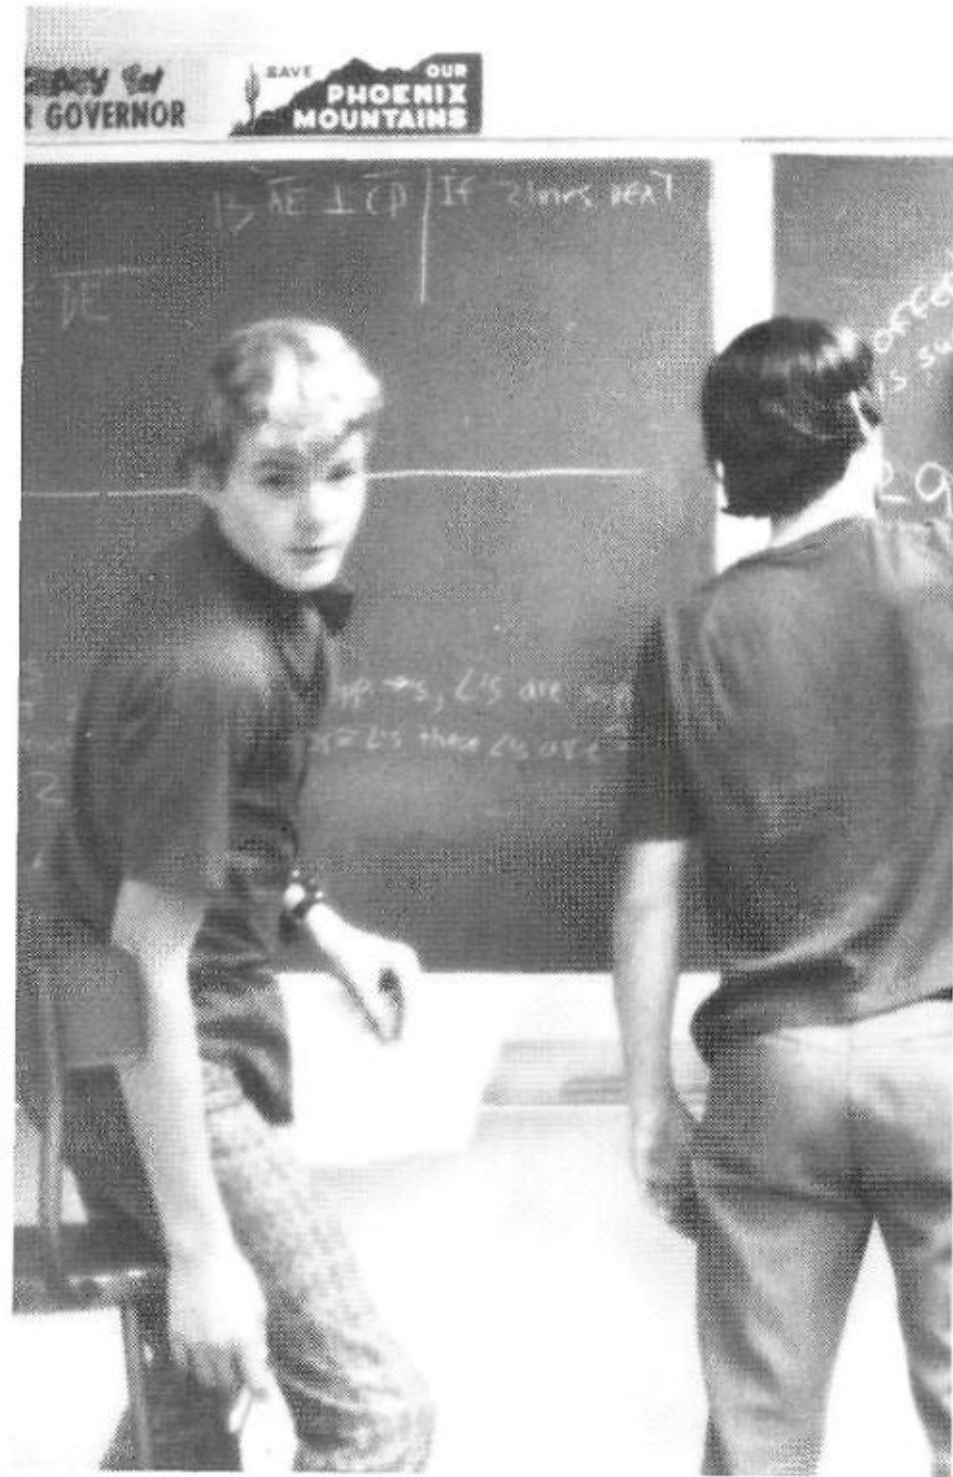

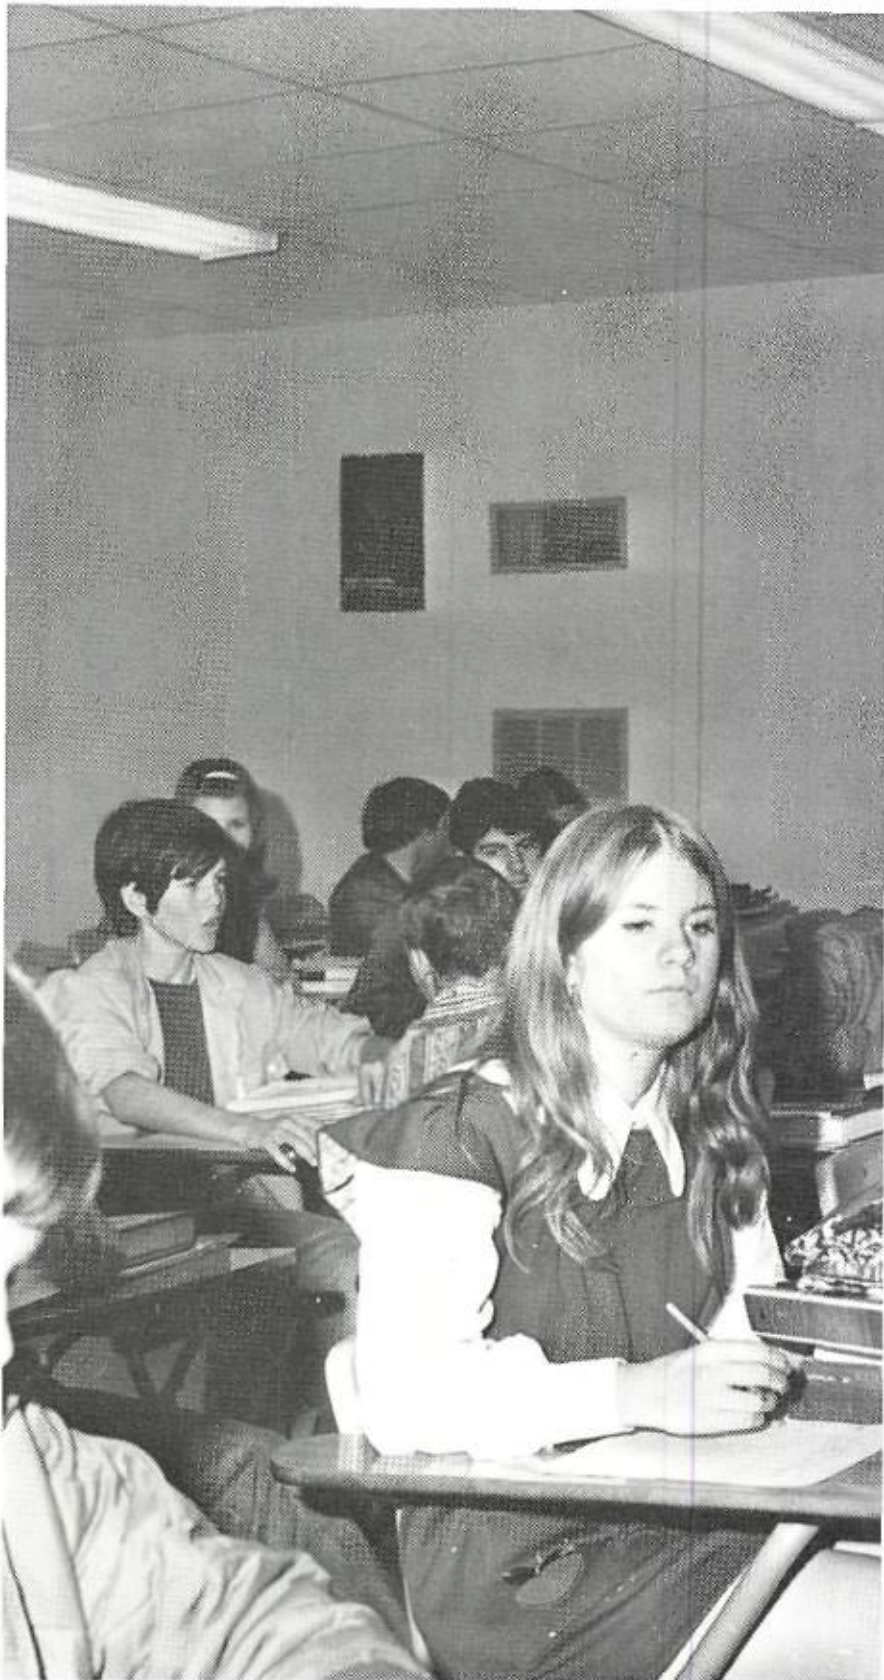

Thunderbird students collected twice as many cans as Moon Valley in the Canned food drive before Christmas. Shown with the three quarters of a ton of food are Michele Pastor, Terry Johnson, Miss Sherman, Bob Hunsick, Mr. Gessner, Mr. Cosper, Mitzi Westcott and Rhonda Webster.

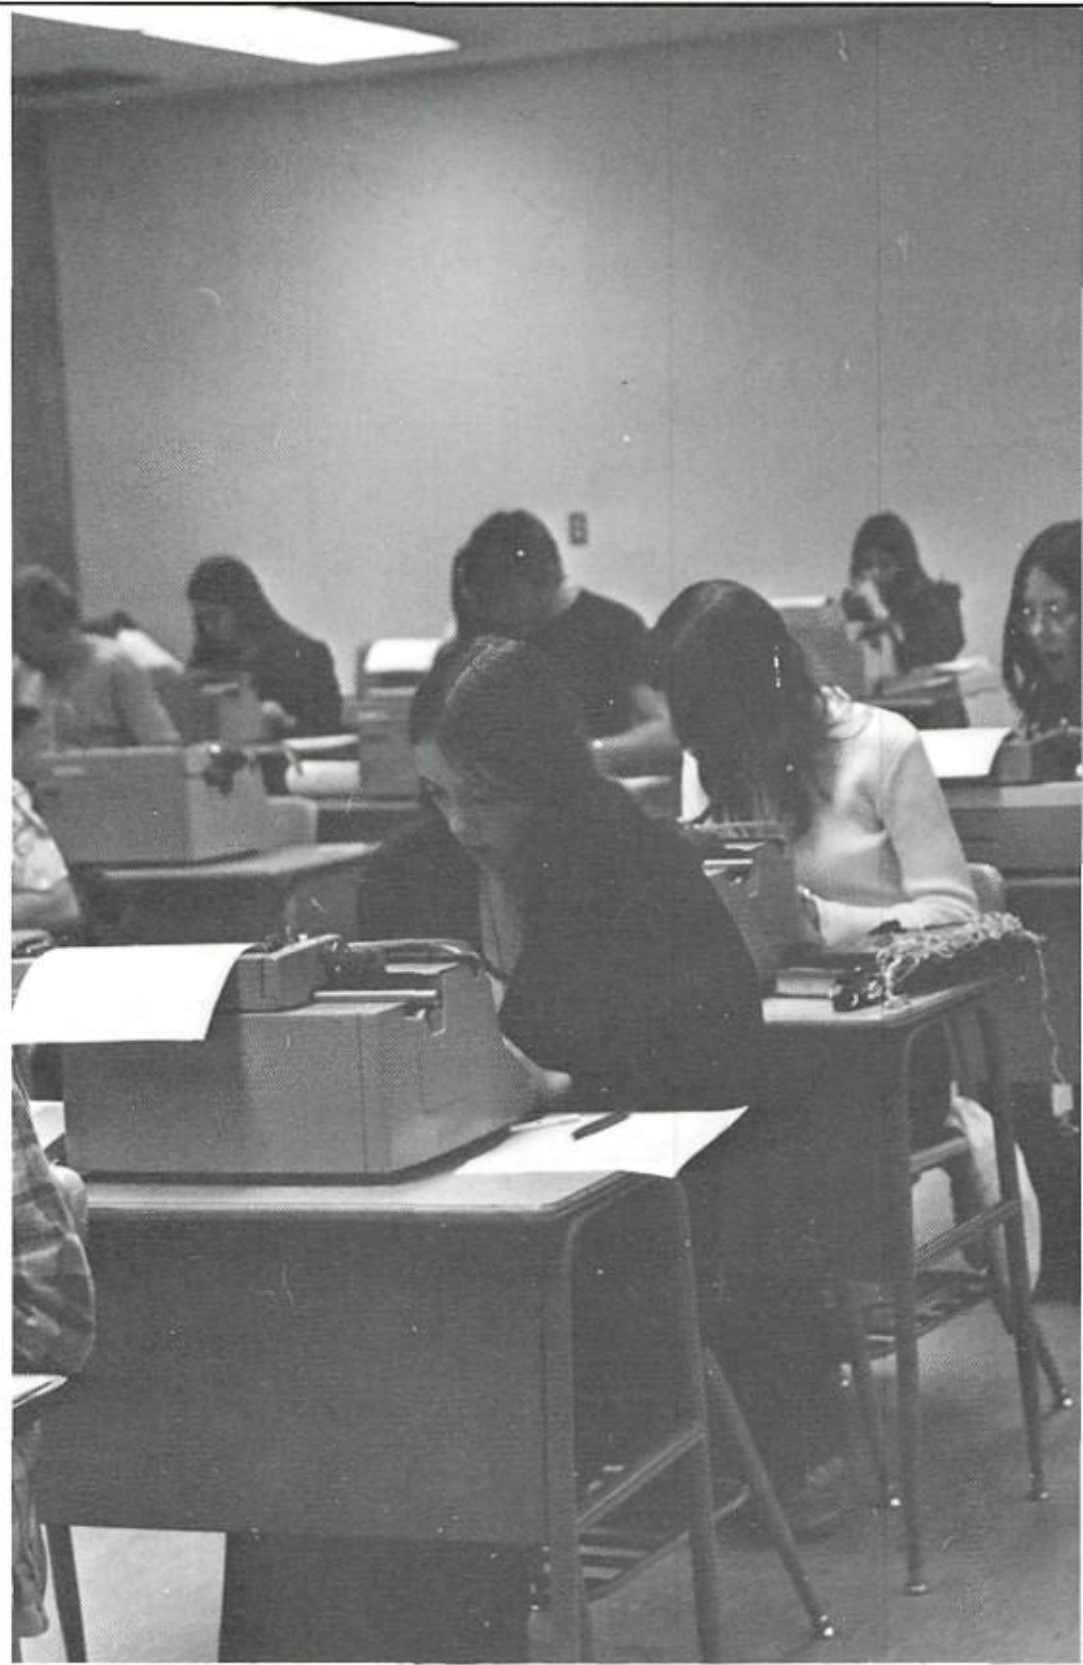

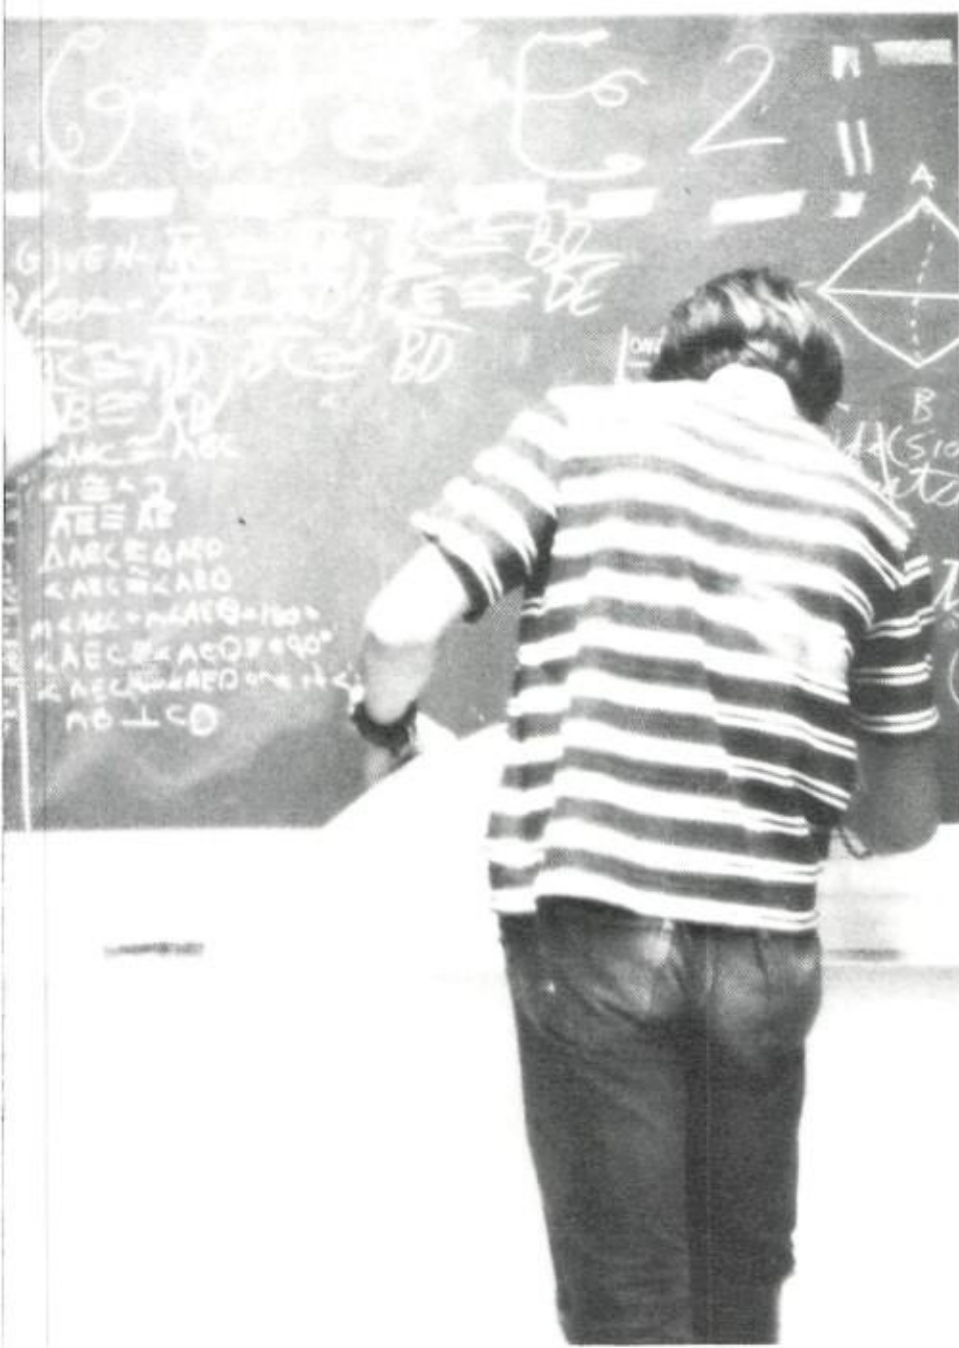

Spectators stand for the school song after one of the Chief's Touchdowns against Apollo.

Student Body President, Bob Hunsick welcomes the student body to the winter sports pep assembly.

This, the first volume of the Warrior, is truly an exciting and significant step in the events of opening a new school. That the yearbook staff could produce this book under such adverse conditions is a great tribute to their creativity, endurance, skill, and dedication. It is, likewise, a tribute to the entire staff and student body for lending their fine support.

May each of you enjoy and treasure this book.

War Party Fosters Strong Chief Spirit

Six cheerleaders have led the Chiefs in displays of spirit this year. They were chosen last spring. They selected blue uniforms for basketball and orange for football.

During Spirit Week they sold balloons, footballs, cokes, and they helped the War Party sell T-bird buttons.

Their officers are Captain-Beth Nuckolls, Treasurer-Lynne Garland, Publicity Chairman-Julie Olsen, Scrapbook-Vickie Dahl.

They helped form the War Party. Close to 50 students were active in the War Party this year. The club formed in October during football season. They sold T-bird buttons as a fund raising activity, they are planning to have a carwash this summer.

The club officers are Chairman-Jan Viktovitch, Treasurer-Jan Zarbua, Secretary-Claire Gramer and Jeannie Hull.

Pitcher, Mike Allsop fires his fastball during an intrasquad game, at a morning practice session.

A Chief runner beats the tag with a well executed slide into third base.

Jim Panasiti watches Jack Cossel's pitch go by, high and outside, as Coach Bauman looks on.

Thunderbird High School's first year was certainly an exciting one. Just like everything else in life, it had its ups and downs. But in spite of the long afternoon sessions at Moon Valley, the long rides home after dark on a crowded bus, the major feeling of the year was one of eager anticipation.

Both students and teachers anxiously awaited the move into the new school. Even constant delays in the construction seemed to heighten the anticipation rather than cause disappointment.

Truly the year was eager and exciting--full of firsts. Who could forget the first game, the first dance, the first election of officers, the first meeting of each new club, the first issue of the newspaper, the first play, or the first day in open concept?

We the yearbook staff worked many long hours to bring you a memorable first issue of the WARRIOR. We hope you will enjoy it this year, turn to it and cherish it in later years.
